
Expert Competition Announced On « Armenia's Communication Security Present Situation Conclusions And Prospective ».

Regnum, Russia

15/3/2007

"Noravank" Foundation announces a research work competition on the subject of "Armenia's communication security, present situation, conclusions and prospective." As REGNUM is told at the foundation, the following problems will be welcomed:

The problems connected with Armenia's communication security.

The influence of up-to-date communication means on Armenia's defense, foreign policy economy (particularly energy) and demographic picture.

The main factors threatening Armenia's communication security: Azerbaijan's and Turkey's strategy directed to Armenia's blockade and, in this connection, international legal norms referring to communication problems.

Georgian-Russian boarder problems caused by Russian-Georgian conflicts, the influence of RA-Javakhk communication-economic problems and the scenario of possible destabilization of Georgia's situation on Armenia's economy.

Armenia-Iran communication problems.

Air-communication problems.

Initiatives/projects directed to ensuring Armenia's communication security: Foreign policy initiatives, Economic field (for example, the steps undertaken by state and business structures), Energy field (the problems of developing alternative energy or its private energy potential and the ones of supply and diversification).

International-legal field (which are the leverages that can further deblocking Armenian-Turkish and Armenian-Azerbaijani borders), Information field.

The works are accepted only in electronic version (MS Word program): the works, which should not exceed 25 pages, are to be presented in Armenian, Russian and English languages.

In addition to research works are also accepted projects of innovation character and conceptual approaches directed to securing Armenia's communication security, which should not exceed 3 (three) pages.

All interested and qualified candidates are encouraged to email their applications to konkurs@noravank.am till June 1, 2007. Attach your Curriculum vita (CV) to your application please.

The three best works will be awarded. The competition commission may also pay encouraging rewards. Best works (including prize-winning ones) will be published by the Noravank Foundation and presented at the "Armenia's communication security, present situation, conclusions and prospective" scientific conference.
